

Disclaimer: Read This Before Using This Document

This document is a guide designed to help you craft compelling proposals for roles such as Customer Service, Admin support, executive assistant, Customer Support, General Virtual Assistance, Customer Success, etc. However, before you proceed, there are a few important things you need to understand:

You Are Solely Responsible

The effectiveness of this document depends on how well you tailor the guidance to your own experiences and qualifications. The sample proposals provided were written specifically for certain job descriptions and aligned with my personal resume and background.

You CANNOT copy and paste these proposals as they are tailored to my unique experiences. Use this document as a guide to craft your own proposals, reflecting your skills and aligning them with the specific job description you're applying for.

Your Resume Must Be Complete and Well-Written

Before starting, ensure your resume is polished and aligns with the roles you're targeting. A strong resume is the foundation of a compelling proposal. If you need assistance, tools like ChatGPT can help tailor your resume to match job descriptions by highlighting areas where your experience fits the recruiter's requirements.

The Purpose of This Guide

This guide demonstrates how to structure proposals that stand out, particularly for Upwork. The proposals here may look similar because they reflect my consistent experiences and the types of roles I applied for. However, job descriptions can vary slightly, which is why it's crucial to make adjustments based on your own background.

Capturing the Recruiter's Attention

The key to getting noticed on platforms like Upwork is to create an engaging opening line that sparks interest. Remember, recruiters see only the first few words of your proposal initially. If your introduction is generic or cliché, your proposal is likely to be overlooked. Craft an eye-catching opener and ensure the rest of your proposal aligns closely with the job description.

Use ChatGPT Wisely

ChatGPT is a powerful tool that can help you align your experiences with job descriptions, refine your resume, and draft tailored proposals. Upload your resume, copy and paste the job description, and ask it to highlight areas where you meet the recruiter's needs.

ADDITIONAL NOTES-

Even though this document is titled "Upwork Proposal Template," you can absolutely use it to send cover letters for roles outside of Upwork as well.

All you need to do is add your personal details, your name, email, etc. and then open with "Dear Hiring Manager" or "Dear Sir/Ma" as appropriate, before writing the body of your cover letter.

The reason the templates don't already contain those details is simple, Upwork doesn't allow personal information in proposals, and the format for writing an Upwork proposal is a little different from a standard cover letter. That's the only distinction.

Final Note:

This document is a resource to guide you in writing proposals, not a shortcut.

Personalize each application to showcase your unique skills, experiences, and fit for the role. By following these principles, you'll increase your chances of standing out to recruiters and landing the opportunities you're aiming for.

Good luck!

FAQ

1-How do you handle sensitive information?

To handle sensitive information at work effectively, I make sure to Follow Policies: I familiarize myself with company guidelines and NDAs, and I ask questions if anything is unclear.

Secure Data: I use strong passwords, encrypted tools, and locked storage for sensitive documents.

Limit Access: I only share information with authorized individuals who need to know it.

Be Careful with Communication: I use approved tools and avoid discussing sensitive details in public or on personal devices.

HOW TO ENSURE ACCURACY WHILE TYPING

I ensure accuracy while typing by double-checking my work and using tools like Grammarly and Google Corrector to spot and fix errors quickly. Voice Typing: For long or complex content, using voice typing tools can reduce manual errors, as long as you proofread the text afterward.

This is my resume, whenever i post a job description for you to write an upwork proposal or a cover letter, always align the role with my experiences.

Virtual Assistant for Real Estate Agent - Admin & Social Media Tasks

Hello Sam,

You need someone who can keep your day organized and your social media running without constant reminders, that's exactly what I've done for real estate professionals.

At VeriFast, I supported admin operations in a real estate environment, handling documentation, scheduling, and customer communication with accuracy and professionalism. I understand the pace of this industry and how important it is to stay ahead of the day ,not just keep up.

I've also created and scheduled content for Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn using tools like Canva and Predis.ai, tailoring the tone to match each client's voice. Whether it's organizing folders, confirming appointments, or making sure your next post goes out on time, I take ownership and follow through without needing handholding.

You seem like an amazing person Sam, and I'd love to support you

Regards,
Star

General Virtual Assistance

Hi there!

When your calendar's packed, your inbox is full, and travel still needs to be booked, you don't need reminders, you need someone who already saw it coming and handled it. That's how I work.

I've supported founders and small business owners by managing their calendars, organizing tasks across platforms like Google Calendar, Gmail, and Slack, and handling the details that usually steal time away from bigger decisions. I don't wait to be told what's urgent, I anticipate it, prioritize it, and keep things moving behind the scenes.

At my most recent role for instance, I coordinated meetings, managed inboxes, and supported day-to-day ops while juggling shifting timelines and personal admin tasks, including booking last-minute travel and keeping internal tools updated. I'm also familiar with Shopify and tools like Deputy, and I know how to jump into a system and get oriented quickly.

If you're looking for a sharp, organized assistant who can help you breathe a little easier and think a little clearer, I'm ready.

Warmly,

Virtual Assistant (US Hours) – Detail-Oriented, Proactive, and Tech-Savvy

BANANA

Hi there!

I really appreciate the straightforward and honest tone of your job post. I'm not looking for just another task list, I'm looking to be part of a team where I can make a real difference. I'd love to bring my experience and care to your business. I've worked with another client in this niche and I'm exactly who you are looking for. Someone proactive, someone available who will not disappear on you. someone reliable.

Here's how my experiences align based on your needs:

Day-to-Day Admin & Staying Ahead

In my previous roles, I managed emails, handled scheduling, took meeting notes, and followed up with team members and clients- all without being asked. I supported the CEO's inbox at Femunify and handled detailed project workflows at Metatron Concepts using tools like ClickUp and Monday.com. Just like your job post says, I believe in staying one step ahead and making things easier before they become a problem.

Communication & Professionalism

I've handled client communications through email and live chat at companies like Divbrands and VeriFast. Whether I'm sending a follow-up, answering questions, or organizing project updates, I make sure everything is clear, polite, and warm, because how we say things really matters.

File & System Organization

I'm very organized by nature. I've created SOPs, organized project documents, and managed task systems to keep things streamlined and easy to access. I love bringing order to chaos, it's one of my favorite parts of being a VA.

Light Design Work in Canva

I've used Canva to create social media graphics, presentation slides, and internal templates. I enjoy making things look clean, professional, and aligned with brand vibes, even if it's just a quick update to a template.

Tech Tools & Problem Solving

I've worked with Google Workspace, Slack, Zoom, ClickUp, and a range of CRMs like Hubspot, Gorgias, and Intercom. I'm quick to learn new tools and often find better ways to use them. For example, at Divbrands, I noticed repetitive customer complaints and recommended small tweaks to product info that reduced support tickets, just like you said, solving a problem before it becomes one.

Availability

I'm available during standard US hours and very responsive. You won't need to chase me down or remind me of deadlines, I take ownership and keep communication open.

Looking forward to connecting!

Warmly,

Customer Support and Administrative Assistant for Research Peptides Company

Hi PulsePeptides Team,

I know what it takes to keep things organized and moving, especially in fast-paced environments where every detail counts. What makes me a strong fit for this role is how I handle responsibility: I don't need constant follow-up. I pay attention to the little things, communicate clearly and professionally, and treat your business like it's mine. I'm also comfortable learning and navigating new tools, including industry-specific platforms.

At my most recent role, I handled a variety of administrative tasks, including managing schedules, organizing documents, responding to emails, and assisting with day-to-day operations. I handled everything from preparing detailed project briefs for team members to following up on tasks and keeping communication clear across teams. I also participated in team meetings to address challenges, adjust workflows, and keep projects on track

I've also worked in customer support roles where I was the first point of contact for people who were confused, frustrated, or just needed a little help getting things to work. At Divbrands and VeriFast, I supported customers through chat and email, helping them solve all kinds of issues. I learned early on that how you speak to someone matters just as much as what you say. So whether I was resolving a shipping problem or walking someone through a tricky process, I made sure the experience felt clear, warm, and human.

You won't have to worry about chasing me down or wondering if things are getting done ,I'm dependable, quick to adapt, and I truly enjoy supporting teams behind the scenes.

Looking forward to connecting and seeing how I can make things easier for you.

Warm regards,
Awanger

Hi there!

You must be an amazing and fun person to work with(This is an opening line that'd make them want to open your poposal. I have carefully read everything you've said and I'm totally game.

An excellent customer support can truly transform a customer's experience. Whether it's helping someone resolve a complex issue, guiding them to unlock the full potential of a platform, or simply being a reassuring voice, I take pride in being the go-to person customers can count on.

At VeriFast for instance, I managed hundreds of customer inquiries weekly, resolving technical issues and providing tailored solutions to enhance user satisfaction. I've built trust with customers, not just by fixing their problems, but by empowering them with the tools and knowledge they need to succeed—something I know is at the heart of what you do at Distru.

Tech-Savvy with Hands-On Experience

I've worked extensively with platforms like HubSpot, Zendesk, and Intercom, using them to streamline support processes and create efficiencies. At Femunify, I also developed SOPs, knowledge base articles, and process templates, ensuring the team could provide consistent and effective support—an approach I'd love to bring to Distru.

Clear Communication That Connects

Whether it's writing easy-to-follow guides, jumping on calls to debug issues, or crafting responses to complex tickets, I excel at meeting customers where they are. My ability to stay calm, clear, and even bring a sense of humor to stressful situations has been key to turning potential frustrations into positive outcomes.

This role sounds like a great fit, and I'd love the chance to bring my experience to your team. Let me know if there's a good time to connect!

Looking forward to hearing from you. Attached is my resume-

Customer experience representative

I am writing to convey my interest in the Customer experience representative position at Clipboard Health. I am inspired by your vision to improve lives. I have gone through the job description job and it perfectly matches my talents and expertise. Here is why you should hire me:

You specify that you want someone with a strong relational approach, adaptability, critical thinking abilities, and a proactive mindset. My experience as a Customer Service Specialist is perfectly aligned with these requirements. I have over 5 years of experience providing excellent customer service and have a solid track record in operational efficiency, client onboarding, customer satisfaction and customer retention.

In my current role as a Marketing and Customer Service VA at Femunify in Toronto, I have been actively involved in enhancing client experiences, facilitating onboarding processes, and providing exceptional customer support. My approach involves addressing member questions, concerns, and requests with empathy and fostering a sense of belonging within the community.

Having worked remotely, I am experienced in handling day-to-day operational activities, employing task management systems (ClickUp, Trello).

In my previous position as a Sales Team Lead at Coolinks Integrated Services, I honed my leadership and communication skills. I successfully grew and retained the customer base, managed the sales team, and implemented marketing strategies. I addressed over 100 customer complaints, troubleshooted 85% of issues, and closed over 60 sales as a customer service specialist at Hanez Projects Nig.Ltd, demonstrating my ability to provide excellent customer service. These experiences, I believe, have given me the abilities necessary to serve as the primary point of contact for your customers, assuring their total satisfaction and success.

I am proficient in using CRM tools such as Zendesk, Freshdesk, Intercom, and Hubspot, and project management tools such as (Trello, Asana, Microsoft Teams, Nifty, Zoho), video conferencing tools (Zoom, Google Meet, Microsoft Teams, Skype), and office software tools (Microsoft Office Suite, Google suit, email, clients, document management systems, etc). I am well-equipped to handle up to 30 clients at a time, respond promptly to inquiries, and collaborate with cross-functional teams to address customer needs.

I thrive in dynamic environments and I am committed to breaking my own limits to contribute to the growth of Clipboard Health. Looking forward to chatting with you on how my skills can contribute to the growth of Clipboard Health

Warm regards,
Awanger

Personal Virtual Assistant

I went through your work history and I already know that we'd do great stuff together.

I have worked closely with executives and one thing I've noticed is the intense juggling act they have to perform daily. Between endless meetings, managing personal commitments like doctor appointments, family time, and even taking breaks for vacations or trying to be present for their families, it's a constant hustle. I've seen firsthand how easy it is for them to get burned out and lose that critical work-life balance

I want to be that reliable support system that has your back and helps lighten your load. By handling those nitty-gritty, repetitive tasks, you get to focus on the core aspects of your life and business.

I can help you with:

✓ Email Management: Handling email inboxes, responding to emails, scheduling appointments, and managing calendars.

✓ Data Entry: Entering and organizing data into spreadsheets, databases, or other software programs.

✓ Travel Arrangements: Booking flights, hotels, and making other travel arrangements for clients

✓ Online Errands: Performing tasks such as online shopping, booking appointments, or making reservations on behalf of clients.

✓ General Administrative Support: Providing any other clerical or administrative assistance that you need such as scheduling meetings, managing to-do lists, or handling expenses and invoices

If I can be the one ensuring that your schedule runs smoothly or that you don't miss that standing family dinner, then I've done my job. Talk to you soon

Regards,

Awanger

ADMIN Virtual Assistant

Hi there!

This must be an amazing company to work with, I went through your work history and I already know that we'd do great stuff together.

spent over six years juggling a variety of administrative tasks, from organizing files to mastering project management tools like Asana—and I truly enjoy the behind-the-scenes work that keeps businesses running smoothly.

Here's how I can help:

I'll ensure your data entry in Asana is always accurate and up-to-date.

Research? Consider it done with thoroughness and attention to detail.

I thrive on keeping things organized, whether it's file systems or spreadsheets.

Plus, I've handled transcription and created well-structured documents for team efficiency.

I'm experienced with Google Docs, Sheets, and Asana, and pride myself on being reliable, proactive, and a fast learner. I'm also available during your specified hours, 10 am to 6 pm EST, and can jump in right away to make an impact.

Let's chat and see how I can help take those admin tasks off your plate!

Looking forward to hearing from you,

About Myself(If a recruiter asks that you tell them about yourself)
It could be part of the questions you answer while submitting the proposal

I'm someone who genuinely loves making a difference—whether it's helping a customer solve a tricky problem or finding ways to make things run more smoothly behind the scenes. Over the past five years, I've really found my groove in simplifying complex processes and making people's lives easier. At VeriFast, for example, I guide applicants through the real estate process, and I take pride in making every interaction as smooth and supportive as possible.

I also have a creative side when it comes to building systems. At Femunify, I got to design workflows and onboarding processes from scratch, which was so rewarding because I could see the impact on the team and the business. And my time leading a sales team taught me how to connect with people and motivate them to succeed, which is a skill I carry with me everywhere.

I'm super comfortable with tools like Zendesk, Trello, and Slack, and I love diving into new software—it's like solving a fun puzzle. More than anything, I care about making a positive impact, whether it's for a customer, a teammate, or a process that needs a little TLC. It's what keeps me excited and driven every day.

My Experiences -If a recruiter asks that you tell them about your experiences, you can use this format, but you must tweak it to suit YOUR experiences

I've spent the last five years honing my skills in customer support and operations, and I truly enjoy helping people navigate challenges and making their lives a little easier. In my current role at VeriFast, I guide applicants through the real estate application process. Whether it's answering calls, resolving technical issues, or troubleshooting, I make sure every interaction is smooth and leaves the customer feeling supported. I use Zendesk to track everything and collaborate with internal teams to solve complex problems—it's all about making things seamless for the customer.

Before that, I worked as a Virtual Assistant for Femunify, where I got to build systems and processes from the ground up. I organized email workflows, created templates, and even helped with onboarding new clients. It was all about streamlining operations to set the company up for success, and I loved being part of that journey.

Oh, and I've also led a sales team! At Coolinks Integrated Services, I trained a group of talented salespeople, helped build marketing strategies, and managed leads using tools like Apollo.io and Mailchimp. It was a great opportunity to sharpen my leadership skills and really understand how to connect with clients.

When it comes to tools, I've worked with Trello, Asana, Slack, and pretty much all the go-to platforms for project management and communication. I'm also skilled at diving into new software, which makes adapting to different workflows a breeze.

Above all, I'm someone who loves making an impact—whether that's by solving a customer's problem, optimizing a process, or collaborating with a team to achieve something great. I'm excited about opportunities where I can bring all these experiences together and continue to grow!

Virtual Assistant for Administrative, Customer Service, and Business Development Support. This was a 3in1 role

Hi there! (Always tell chatgpt to make it conversational and personalized and it will give you this output)

I absolutely love how detailed you are about what you want in a VA. I love working with people who not only know what they want, but also know how to communicate it effectively. I'm confident that we can work well together.

Here is why you should hire me;

First, The opportunity to work in a supportive, growth-oriented environment while contributing to your company's success excites me 😊

Second, I have tones of experience in customer Service. In my current role at VeriFast, I handled everything from answering calls and scheduling to troubleshooting and guiding clients through processes. I've learned how to listen, solve problems, and leave customers feeling taken care of—which I know is key to success in your industry.

Super Organized (and Then Some): Whether it's managing email inboxes, keeping track of data, or juggling multiple tasks, I thrive on staying organized and efficient. I've worked with tools like Zendesk, LiveChat, Intercom, Asana, Google Workspace, and Trello, so I can jump right in and get things running smoothly.

Eager to Grow: I love that you're looking for someone who's not just here for a task-based role. I want to learn, contribute, and grow alongside your team. Building relationships with new trades, suppliers, and clients sounds exciting, and I'd love to help make that happen.

While not my primary focus, I've dabbled in creating content, designing graphics with Canva and working with teams to enhance branding and outreach efforts. If needed, I'd be happy to explore how I can assist with social media management or marketing tasks.

What really drew me to your role was your emphasis on fostering collaboration and recognizing efforts. I'm looking for a place where I can truly contribute and feel valued—and this feels like exactly that kind of opportunity.

I'd love to show you what I can bring to your team. Let's make great things happen together!

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Virtual Assistant Chat Support

Hi Arwin,

You must be an amazing person. I can tell just by reading what others who have previously worked with you have said about you.

Here's why we should work together;

-I have vast experience in Chat Support: In my most recent role, I provided guidance and resolved technical issues for customers via Zendesk, ensuring a smooth user experience. My familiarity with CRM tools like Zendesk, LiveChat, Intercom, Freshdesk etc make me confident in my ability to manage customer inquiries efficiently and professionally.

In any customer facing role I find myself, I leverage my natural inclination for problem-solving to improve clients' experiences and satisfy their needs. My ultimate goal is to build lasting relationships where I can act as a reliable partner dedicated to finding answers and ensuring complete customer satisfaction.

-I have strong written and verbal communication which allows me to build trust with users while solving their concerns effectively. My watch word is to always go above and beyond for customers.

Technical Proficiency: Beyond customer support tools, I am skilled in project management tools like Trello, Clickup and Asana, which help streamline tasks and communication for better efficiency. These tools complement my ability to collaborate with teams and handle complex queries.

Availability and Commitment: I am fully available to meet your required schedule (2 PM to 10 PM Philippine Time, 6 days a week). This comes easy to me because I worked similar hours in my previous role

I look forward to contributing to your team and help drive the success of AI Store Builder.

Best regards,

Awanger

Experienced Tech Sales Specialist for SaaS –Cold Calling, Demos, and Deal Closing

This must be an amazing company to work with, I went through your work history and I already know that we'd do great stuff together. Here is why you need to hire me for this role;As a SaaS enthusiast with a proven track record in tech sales and customer engagement, I'm thrilled at the opportunity to contribute as your Sales Specialist. I'm particularly excited about working in the SaaS space because I'm not just passionate about it—I run an academy that teaches professionals how to leverage SaaS tools for efficiency and growth. This role aligns perfectly with my skills and passion for helping businesses succeed through technology.

In my 5+ years of experience, I've excelled in:

Tech Sales Leadership: As a Sales Team Lead at Coolinks Integrated Services, I trained and managed a high-performing team, grew a robust sales pipeline, and consistently exceeded revenue targets.

End-to-End Sales Cycle Management: From cold calling and prospecting to delivering tailored demos and closing deals, I've honed the skills necessary to drive sales and build lasting client relationships.

Exceptional Communication & CRM Expertise: Proficient in tools like Zendesk, HubSpot, and Salesforce, I combine technical fluency with a client-focused approach to exceed expectations.

Proactive Client Engagement: At Femunify, I optimized systems, facilitated onboarding processes, and fostered strong community connections, which resulted in improved client satisfaction and retention.

I am confident in my ability to manage the full sales cycle, leverage my expertise in SaaS tools, and exceed your sales targets. I am proactive, self-reliant, and committed to building long-term client relationships to fuel business growth.

I'd love to discuss how my skills and enthusiasm for SaaS can help your business thrive. Could we schedule a time to chat further?

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to contributing to your team's success.

Project Manager/Operations Assistant

I'm thrilled about the opportunity to join your team as a Project Manager/Operations Assistant and am confident that my background aligns perfectly with your requirements. Here's why I'm the proactive, highly organized, and detail-oriented professional you're looking for.

Key Contributions I Bring to the Role:

Project Management Expertise:

- At Femunify (Remote), I maintained operational efficiency by creating and documenting Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), optimizing workflows, and addressing member inquiries. I also utilized tools like Asana and ClickUp to monitor project progress, ensuring all deadlines were met and team collaboration remained seamless.

Operations Support Mastery:

- In my role at VeriFast (Remote), I worked in a fast-paced environment to provide efficient customer support via Zendesk and LiveChat, troubleshooting issues promptly and optimizing operational processes to improve team productivity.

Team Collaboration and Communication:

- I excel in asynchronous collaboration, using tools like Slack and Loom to communicate updates and clarify tasks with team members effectively. My knack for proactive communication ensures that everyone stays informed and aligned.

Why I'm Your Ideal Candidate:

- Over-Communicative: I keep stakeholders in the loop by delivering timely updates and progress reports, ensuring transparency in every project.
- Ownership Mindset: I take initiative to identify inefficiencies and propose solutions, striving to anticipate needs before they arise.
- Detail-Oriented: My track record of managing multiple tasks while maintaining impeccable attention to detail proves my ability to thrive under pressure.
- Proactive Problem-Solver: I don't wait for problems to escalate—I address bottlenecks promptly and provide clear solutions.

Technical Proficiency:

- Project management tools: Asana, ClickUp, and Trello

- Communication platforms: Slack and Loom
- Workflow documentation and optimization: SOP creation and maintenance

Your mission to create order out of chaos resonates deeply with me. I'm passionate about building efficient systems that empower teams to achieve their goals and exceed expectations. I look forward to the chance to contribute to your team's success during EST afternoons and evenings, bringing my strategic mindset and dedication to excellence to the table.

Let's set up a time to discuss how my skills and experience align with your needs. I'm excited about the opportunity to collaborate and make a meaningful impact.

Best regards,
Awanger

Customer Support Role

Here is why you need to hire me for this role

In my previous role as a Customer Support Expert at VeriFast (Remote), I thrived in a fast-paced environment where I provided exceptional support to applicants navigating the online US real estate application process. Using Zendesk and LiveChat, I effectively guided applicants through challenges, resolved issues promptly, and ensured accurate documentation of customer interactions. I'm confident these experiences make me an excellent fit for this role, as you're seeking someone efficient, detail-oriented, and dedicated to first-contact resolution and customer satisfaction.

At Femunify (Remote), I honed my skills as a Marketing and Customer Service VA. I created and documented Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), streamlined operational processes, and addressed member inquiries to foster a positive customer experience. This role allowed me to strengthen my technical skills, including proficiency in HubSpot, and deepen my ability to multitask and prioritize in remote environments.

Here's how I meet your requirements:

-Technical Proficiency: I'm skilled in using Zendesk, HubSpot, LiveChat and project management tools like Trello, Clickup and Asana.

- Strong Communication Skills: I'm experienced in responding to inquiries via email, phone, and live chat, with a proven ability to foster positive customer relationships and maintain professionalism in all interactions.

- Organizational Efficiency: Proficient in managing multiple tasks, prioritizing effectively, and maintaining attention to detail in remote settings.

- Problem-Solving Expertise: Skilled at resolving customer complaints efficiently and ensuring follow-ups to guarantee satisfaction.

I'm also fluent in creating a welcoming and productive environment for customers, which mirrors your team's commitment to providing exceptional service and maintaining customer loyalty.

I'm so excited about the possibility of joining your team and contributing to a supportive and collaborative environment that values growth and learning. Let's set up a time to connect—I'd love to share more about how my experience aligns with your needs.
